POWERS A CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS.

The discussion of Caleb Powers and Charles Finley as possible candidates for Congress in the Eleventh District is not a surprise. Mr. Powers particularly is an ambitious politician. No matter what one may think as to his guilt or innocence in the conspiracy to kill Goebel, there can be little admiration for his evident eagerness to continue to pose as a martyr, and as a reward for his martyrdom to ask a seat in Congress.—Kentucky Evening Gazette.

We think the decision or inclination of these men to again come before the public in this way is unwise; just as it is unwise and uncomplimentary for Democrats now to seek recognition because they voted to seat Mr. Goebel as Governor. The best interest of Kentucky and Kentuckians demands that the lawless, revolutionary, and disgraceful scenes and acts of that time be forgotten. Intimidation, force, murder and stealing are not to be boasted of as deserving approval and rewarded by promotion to office. We never regarded either W. S. Taylor or Wm. Goebel worthy to be Governor of Kentucky.

In this writing we have no denunciations for Taylor on benches for Goebel, and many of their aiders and abettors should be content to turn away from that dark and damning period of Kentucky history. We think there are thousands of Republicans and Democrats who are ashamed of and grieved because of what occurred. Let not partisan strife exalt the one party or revile the other.

WHAT KIND DO YOU WANT?

When two or more competent and worthy men are candidates for the same office, the voter sometimes hesitates to make a choice. Voting for one should not be regarded as a lack of confidence in or as hostility to the other; neither should acquaintance with or friendship for a candidate who is intellectually and morally disqualified for the office sought lead the voter to support him, especially when his opponent is a fine man, in every way suited for the responsible position. A community is largely judged by the capacity, appearance and character of the officials of that community.

A man as an official is the representative of the community and as such should receive commendation for service well done and dangers endured, or criticism for his unworthy life or obligations violated. Candidates for such representation should show themselves worthy of confidence and support. We admonish the voters of this county to act wisely in choosing their representatives.

DO THE WORK WELL.

The decision of the Board of Public Works to not accept the sewers recently built in various parts of the city because of the bad condition in which the streets were left by the contractors, meets universal approval, and it is believed will have a good effect on the work to be done hereafter.—Lexington Leader.

When the streets of Mt. Sterling are dug up by any contractor or company for the laying of sewer, water and gas pipes or for telephone purposes, said person or company should be required to restore the street in its former condition. Pitching in loose dirt is a blotch at repairs, is an imposition on the public, subjects the city administration to criticism, and often gives severe wrenches and jolts to persons riding in conveyances by running into these defective places in the street.

For months such a place was in the street at east end of Episcopal church.

The writer privately called attention of the Mayor to this hole. Since then the place has been filled with rock at the expense of TAXPAYERS. If the company that dug the hole had attended to its business as it ought to have done, that defect and expense would not have been.

A hint should be sufficient. Do the work well.

The Democrats of Clark County were voting to nominate candidates for the Legislature and county offices as we went to press yesterday.

SALOONS ARE RUNNING ON SUNDAY.

At Lexington on Monday night Evangelist W. T. Brooks attacked the saloons of Lexington, and declared that they were running wide open on Sunday in violation of the law. Rev. Brooks said that the Mayor and Chief of Police were woefully ignorant as to these violations, or as "blind as bats."

The evangelist said that on Sunday two reputable young men went to five different saloons and at each place found customers present, and a bartender who sold them wet goods. He called to Mr. Tapp, his helper, whom he designated as his bartender, to "bring forth the evidence," which consisted of bottles of whisky and beer labeled with the date, hour and minute, and place of purchase.

WHERE HE GOT THE GOODS.

The first bottle of whisky, Mr. Brooks said, was bought at the Reed Hotel bar at 9:35 last Sunday morning, the second bottle of whisky was bought at the Leonard Hotel bar at 9:50 last Sunday morning. One bottle of beer was bought at 2:25 last Sunday afternoon at the Sunnyside saloon, another at 2:35 at M. J. Sullivan's saloon and another at 2:45 at the Cafe Royal Saloon.

Mr. Brooks said that the main trouble all over the land is that city officials forget they are paid by the taxpayers, citizens of the community, to enforce the laws as they are found and instead they become judges of the law and decide whether or not a law shall be enforced.

The city officials, including police, should not be resentful and regard him as a meddler, but should see that laws are enforced.

PROPOSED ELECTRIC ROAD.

On tomorrow a committee from The Winchester Commercial Club goes to North Middletown to meet men from that town and Sharpsburg to confer about the building of an electric road from Sharpsburg via North Middletown to Winchester. It is said that right-of-way and much of the needed money can be had at once.

The Mt. Sterling Business Men's Club should be awake to the importance of this plan. We have missed some great opportunities.

Howe's Shows At Frankfort.

Fresh from a tour that has embraced all the European countries, Howe's Great London Shows are to entertain the populace of Frankfort with two performances, the superior of which the critics say, are hard to find on the road.

Long before daylight the three trains of double length cars will roll into the city and immediately an army of workmen will engage in unloading the dens, tableaux cars, cages of wild animals, horses, ponies and the thousand and one other things that large aggregations are forced to carry. No greater show will ever visit Frankfort. Howe shows what he advertises. Don't forget the date, Wednesday, June 2.
